

APPENDIX II

TRAINING DEVELOPMENT STAFF

I. MISSION

The Chief, Training and Development Staff, assists the Deputy Director of Training (Special) in ascertaining covert office operational doctrine and policy relating to clandestine activities, and provides staff guidance with respect to the effect of such doctrine and policy on the content, emphasis, and level of instruction to be required of, and attained in, all instructional programs of TR(S).

II. FUNCTIONS

The Chief, Training Development Staff, shall:

A. Maintain liaison with appropriate staff components of the covert offices for the purpose of ascertaining operational doctrine and policy.

B. Establish and maintain liaison with operating divisions and staffs of the covert offices to permit the procurement of information required for instructional purposes.

C. Insure, by continuing coordination with the Chief, Plans and Programs Staff, that the development of training facilities and programs of instruction meets training content requirements.

D. By coordination with Chiefs of Divisions, TR(S), determine and insure that instruction provided by them is consistent in content and adequately correlated.

E. Provide for the regular review of all training materials and instruction to insure that they accurately and adequately reflect current doctrine and policy.

F. Provide a staff for the conduct and guidance of research in the fields of operational practice with the aim of developing new training materials.

G. Provide a staff for the debriefing of returned field personnel of the covert offices in order to obtain information and material which can be used to improve the content of courses of instruction.

H. Initiate and guide the synthesizing of operational experience for the purpose of developing improved operational concepts and techniques.

I. Undertake such other staff responsibilities as the Deputy Director of Training (Special) may direct.
